

DEMOCRATIC PROSPECTS.

It is by no means certain that any name can "lead the Northern hosts to victory" in 1860. There is much to be said in favor of the Republican party, and much to be said in favor of the Democratic party. The chances of the Democratic party are exceedingly small, and without division the success of the Democratic Presidential nominee is hardly problematical.

Upon what can our opponents found hopes of disunion in our ranks? Certainly not upon a probable refusal to unite on a candidate—for there has been no time when there seemed to be less tendency among men. Indeed the whole subject of a candidate appeared to be entirely aloof, and the Charleston Convention is likely to assemble without any previous decided indication of a candidate, and to be left unembarrassed in its selection of such an one, as after free consultation, shall seem to combine the greatest elements of strength for the campaign.

Nor is there any greater indication of embarrassment in the adoption of a platform of principles. In most respects the Democratic National Creed has been well defined and understood for a long period. Its leading principles have been carried into practice and embodied into the policy of the government, until they have commanded the homage of their opponents, and ceased to be directly combated. Nor upon the subject of slavery will there be any serious diversity of opinion in the Democratic National Councils.

The party will continue to stand upon the Cincinnati Platform. Its doctrines carried as safely through the fierce campaign of 1856, when Anti-Slavery fanaticism was in full tide. They have guided the country prosperously through the storms of sectionalism, moving from each extremity of the Union, until they have even conquered the prejudices and commanded the homage of their early opponents, many of whom now claim to be foremost in their advocacy. The Cincinnati Platform is solid ground, familiar to Democratic tread, and can be safely trusted, without the addition of untried or doubtful planks. The Democratic hosts will march upon it, with the confidence inspired by the tread of battlefields where brilliant victories have been won.

Our political friends have reason to exchange congratulations upon the prospect which opens before them. Never did a great party approach a campaign with stronger grounds of hope or higher incentives to enthusiasm. They can only loose the great battle of 1860 by an extreme of rashness and folly, of which it is unlike them to be guilty.—Albany Argus.

PRESIDENT BUCHANAN.

The Salem Advocate gives the following accurate and concise enumeration of Mr. Buchanan's labors as President of the United States:

"He has accomplished everything he proposed in the outset, so far as the public agencies have rested with him; he has conducted our affairs, both at home and abroad, with prudence, sagacity, and an eye single to the honor and welfare of the nation; he has preserved international peace and domestic tranquillity through the most perplexing difficulties and delicate complications—he has met every political issue of the times manfully and honestly, rejected all temporizing policy in dealing with them, and firmly adhered to his convictions of public duty, regardless of personal popularity and local prejudices. He has upheld the integrity of the constitution, preserved the Union unimpaired, and will transmit to his successor an example of official purity and patriotism, unsurpassed in our republican annals. He has done all that an honest and able statesman could do, in a few eventful years, to carry out the traditional policy of the government; and, on his own behalf, he asks of his fellow-citizens nothing more than to be permitted to retire to the walks of private life, and enjoy with them the fruits and blessings of this liberal policy."

CATEGORIES.

It is ruleable, amongst Yankees, says the Marshall Epitapher, to answer questions sometimes by putting others.

1. Does the Black Republican party of Michigan stand by and endorse the spirit of the resolutions of the National Convention, that Congress has the right to intervene and pass a slave code for the Territories?

2. Does the Republican party of Michigan endorse the Massachusetts amendment which proscribes our foreign born citizens?

3. Does the Republican party believe that a negro is better than a foreign born citizen?

4. Does the Republican party endorse the statement of the Detroit Tribune, that the Maine liquor law of Michigan is a failure and that other means must be resorted to, to promote the cause of Temperance?

5. Are the Republican party in favor of Congressional interference with the religious opinions and rights of the people of the Territories?

6. Are the Republican party intending to reorganize the solemn tribunal of the Supreme Court of the United States for political and party reasons?

7. Are the Republicans of Michigan in favor of retaining the Registry law upon their statute book, which has virtually disfranchised every legal voter in the State, and of throwing still further impediments and restrictions around the constitutional rights of suffrage?

8. Is the Republican party of Michigan desirous of imposing increased taxation on the consumers of Michigan by increasing the tariff for protection?

9. Is the Republican party opposed to the spread of Free Institutions over territories which is necessary for the protection of such institutions?

10. Is the Republican party of Michigan in favor of the selection of none but Republicans as jurors in the United States and the State and local Courts?

11. Is the Republican party ready to throw out of their ranks the abolitionists who have furnished them with a large share of their thunder and whose principles they have thus far notoriously sustained?

12. Are the Republicans of Michigan in favor of granting rights to negroes which they refuse to white foreigners and thus introducing an African oligarchy into the State?

13. Are the Republicans of Michigan willing to squander untold sums on charitable institutions without regard to the pecuniary condition of the people, and for the purpose merely of giving employment and office to members of the Republican party?

14. Are the Republicans of Michigan intending to double the amount of the debt they created during Gov. Bingham's administration and double the amount of taxation?

15. Do the Republicans of Michigan recognize the Detroit Tribune as "their leading organ and the true and faithful exponent of their—or what is supposed to be—their principles?"

SARDINIAN LOMBARDY.—The "map of Europe" is altered. Only one country has changed hands, but that change is probably forever. Milanese Lombardy is cut off from Austria and annexed to Piedmont.

Milanese Lombardy is about as large as Massachusetts, with about as many inhabitants as Pennsylvania. It lies between the Rivers Ticino on the west and Adige on the east, and with the Alps on the north and the Po on the south. It is a broad plain, the most fertile in Italy. Its harvests are more abundant, its manufactures more thrifty, its railways and canals more numerous, its mines more prolific than those of any other Italian State. Wine is about the only production in which it is inferior.—Albany Journal.

WATER IN THE SEA.—If we could obtain any idea of the water that the sea contains, let us suppose a common and general depth of the ocean. By computing it at only two hundred fathoms, or the tenth part of a mile, we shall see that there is sufficient water to cover the globe to the height of five hundred and three feet, and if we were to reduce this three feet, we should find that it would form a globe of more than sixty thousand miles in diameter.

The Omaha Nebraska, giving an account of the depredations recently committed by the Pawnee Indians, says that fifteen thousand dollars' worth of property has been stolen from the settlers.—Governor Black is in the field at the head of 250 men and 70 dragoons. The Indians number 3,500.

The Rev. Cyrenus G. Barnes has been arrested and brought before Justice Strong, charged with having seduced a young girl by the name of Chloe E. Luke, of Ceresco, in the township of Marshall.—Marshall Epitapher, 14th.

LARGE PRAYER MEETING.—The papers continue to give astonishing accounts of the progress of the great revival in Ireland. There has probably never before been any thing to compare with it in any country or any age. The Edinburgh Witness gives account of a prayer meeting held in the open air at Belfast, at which from thirty to forty thousand people were present, fifteen thousand of whom were from the surrounding country.

Since July 4th it has been unlawful for any person to pass or receive in the State of Arkansas any bank bill of less denomination than ten dollars. After the 4th of July, 1860, no bill of a less denomination than twenty dollars can be put or kept in circulation. This is approximating to specie currency.

The north wing of the Patent Office at Washington is fast approaching completion. The last layers of granite and marble are being laid, and ere another autumn it will be roofed in, and exterior work on this magnificent building will have ended.

Sir Walter Scott admits that the battle of Waterloo created in the British empire fifteen thousand widows. It is probable that the recent battle of Magenta has created at least twenty thousand orphans.

The commerce of the Sandwich Islands is quite extensive and rapidly increasing. It consists principally of whale oil, whalebone, ivory, wool, and guano.

The repairs of the mansion at Mount Vernon were commenced on Monday of last week. The improvements on the grounds will be soon begun.

Mr. Cummings, the partner of Dr. Bannister, is in Detroit, making arrangements for a balloon ascension from that city.

It is said that there are several Young Americans in Paris—mere boys—who spend one hundred dollars per year in fast living.

The New York Express says it is becoming quite fashionable for a lady to appear with her hair cropped closely behind—the front locks being long enough to curl.

The Marshall Epitapher chronicles two suicides in Calhoun county, last week.

A week filled with selfishness, and the Sabbath stuffed full of religious exercises, will make a good Pharisee, but a poor Christian. There are many persons who think Sunday is a sponge with which to wipe out the sins of the week.

A fellow found guilty of burglary, before Justice Day in Ireland, observed that his fate was singular, as he lost by Day what he got by night.

A gentleman having a remarkable long visage, lately passing a turnpike gate, one laid aside another, "that gentleman's face is longer than his life." Struck with the singularity of the rude observation, he turned and requested an explanation. "Sir," said the boy, "I read in school that man's life is but a span and I'm sure your face is double that length."

The way to make a tall man short is to ask him to lend you a few dollars.
